School Directors' Report.

Your board was organized according to law, electing J. C. Carpenter chairman and E. M. Norton clerk. Rev. H. I. Kemp was engaged as superintendent. Five schools of 30 weeks each were maintained during the year. We have drawn orders for that purpose to the amount of $1654.93, as exhibited below. A school tax of 35 per cent was voted to defray the expenses of the schools, which does not pay the expense, there being a shortage of $63.13. The directors recommend a tax of 40% to defray the expenses for the next year.

School Superintendent's Report.

To the citizens and taxpayers of Huntington, Vt.: In making my report of the condition of our schools I can, of course, draw no comparison of any previous year, yet, I have been able to see advancement, from term to term.

Five schools have been in session during the whole school year. The school at Hanksville was badly broken into during the spring term by the whooping cough; and again this winter by the scarlet fever. Of course these things broke up a term badly indeed. This school room is not as well furnished as some of the others. I should advise that the necessary books be put into the room on or before the opening of another term of school. Civil government is not taught here simply because they have no books. The examination for high schools calls for it. I fail to see where in it is fair to expect a teacher to prepare pupils to take the high school examination without the text books. I have heard no complaint from any of the other teachers in regard to these things. But from my own observation there will have to be many new books placed in nearly all of the school rooms before long.

The largest attendance for any term during the school year was 148, and the smallest attendance for any one term was 118. In my opinion the schools at the Center and the North village are too large. No one teacher can do justice to 45 pupils of all grades. Some of them that are hard to learn do not receive one-half the help from the teacher that they ought to have for the very reason that there is not time. Of course she must help them all some. It does seem that the citizens of Huntington would see after a while that this course of procedure was not paying very well. They are neglecting a duty which they owe the rising generation. The children are not getting what is due them on this line. Many are not aware of this fact because they never visit the school, not even once during the year. This is wrong in my estimation. I think the parents ought to visit the schools and see for themselves what is being done there. It is not always safe to accept the report of a 6-year-old. Go yourself, and see how the school is being conducted, before you report to any of the officials.

I should consider that a graded school some where in town would be very beneficial indeed. It seems to that, looked at from a business standpoint, none could come to any other conclusion, than that they owe it to the children of the town. None want their children out-done in other things; why in education?

During the month of September the examination of the ears and eyes was taken in three schools as follows: North village, whole number examined 27 and 18 found defective; Pierce district, whole number examined 13, and 6 found defective; East street school, whole number examined 12, and 9 found defective. The reason why there was no examination of the same kind in the rest of the schools was because of a lack of supplies. I tried to obtain more and could not.

In the month of August there were four who took the examination for high school.

During the present year there has been only slight change in teachers. On the whole I feel that I can report a profitable school year. I have visited each school once each term.

Respectfully submitted,

H. I. KEMP, Town Superintendent.

Huntington, Vt., February 16, 1909.
